A National Department of Health.

Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, on March 24th, introduced in the Senate a bill providing for a Department of Public Health. This conversation of national health is a good move and the establishment of a department to carry on a war against the ravages of preventable diseases, is a Godsend to the Nation. But remember the bill has only been introduced and may not be passed as the bill has not yet been voted upon. If this bill should fail to become a law, the people will be to blame. Everybody should take an interest in the bill and write letters to each of the State Senators and to the congressmen requesting them to use their influence for the passage of this all important bill. Let us briefly discuss the merits of the bill. In the first place we will speak of the good that was done by our government in eradicating the terrible diseases that existed in the Panama canal zone. Yellow fever and malignant Malaria caused the French government to give up the construction of the canal in despair. The canal was purchased by our government and the misquitos that conveyed yellow fever and malaria germs destroyed and now the Panama canal zone is a delightful and healthful place.

Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, leprosy, plague and other diseases are preventable and if there was a proper observance of the sanitary conditions respecting these diseases, they could be stamped out and 6,000,000 lives saved in the United States that are usually given over to the ravages of these preventable diseases.

In our own state, we have a disease known as Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever that is even more fatal than typhoid fever. It is possible that this disease might be stamped out if a proper investigation was made and the cause removed which allows the ticks to become poisoned.

Let us unite in asking our Legislators to vote for the passage of the bill. We have a department of agriculture that looks after the life and health of plants and animals—why not have a National Department of Health to aid in saving the lives of the people of this great nation? Don't put it off, write today.

Woman's Home Companion for April.

As spring comes around again the Woman's Home Companion lifts its own standard another degree with its Easter Issue. The cover design, by Fanny Y. Cory, strikes a true April note which is faithfully carried out in the entire magazine. A full page painting by Balfour Ker, is one of the tenderest subjects ever attempted by this artist, and "Old-Time Gardens in the Connecticut Valley" by Charles Edward Hooper, with illustrations by Herman Pfeifer, is an unusually artistic feature "The Campaign of Hope," the tireless fight against tuberculosis, is waged with undiminished enthusiasm and is awakening people throughout the country.

"The Empty House," a story in two parts by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, has its first enthralling instalment in this number. It is a story for every woman with a busy, self-sacrificing husband to read. "The House of Healing" by Juliet Wilbor Thompson is gaining new friends with every chapter, and short stories of unusual humor and charm and power fill out the list of fiction.

Never was the household so well taken care of: Margaret Sangster, Woods Hutchinson, M. D., Kate V. Saint-Maur, Doctor Jean Williams all gave their best work. "May-Pole Dances," "Wood-Block Printing," "A Perfume Garden," "Happiness Chest," Miss Farmer's Recipes, Evelyn Parsons' Summer Embroideries, Music, Art—these are just some of the contents of this surprising magazine. The regular departments, Miss Gould's big Fashion Section and the pages devoted to the Younger Reader, are all better than ever.
